NEW YORK, October 4.—Only one game and part of another, of what should have been a double-header between the New York and St. Louis teams, were played here to-day. The second game was forfelted to the visitors by Umpire Johnson in the fourth inning, when the score stood 2 to 1, in favor of St. Louis, on account of continued interruptions by soveral of the New York players, two of whom, Marshall and Dahlen, were put of the field. When Johnstone was on his way to the dressing-room one of the spectalors strukk him. The man was arrested, but Johnstone refused to make any charge against him, and he was released.

J. SELDEN COWDEN WANTS HIS NAME ON

Perpetual Candidate Would Run for Governor in a Presidential Year.

"Like the poor," James Seldon Cowden, a resident of Washington, D. C., and a voter in Fairfax county, "is ever with us," when there are any offices to be contested for in Virginia, nor is he at all particular to what position he aspires, so he gets his name on the ticket,

Mr. Cowden is an independent thinker in politics, and some times he has been known to train under the Prohibition banner, having been the nominee of that party for a State office in the Tyler campaign of 1897.

Mr. Cowden's last run was for Congress against Mr. Glass, up in the Sixth District. Now, he is out for Governor, and does not desire to await the regular parts of things but wants in and does not desire to await the regular order of things, but wants to runthis year on the national ticket. Mr. Cowden has formally notified Secretary D. Q. Eggleston that he will be a candidate for Governor this fall, and, accordingly, asks that his name be placed upon the official ballot.

Mr. Eggleston has replied that there is no election for Governor in Virginia this fall, but that he will be glad to hear from the gentleman next year, if the latter shall then be of the same mind and faith regarding his gubernatorial aspirations.

When you survey the chunk of ice
The iceman leaves each day
You do not wonder that the thing
So quickly melts away,
But when the monthly bill comes in
You stare at the amount;
Ah! then, you are convinced it is

CROP CONDITIONS THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 4.—The Weather Bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions says: With high temperature and practicully no rain during the week in the cotton region, the stape was continued to open rapidly in all sections, prematurely in Georgia and Misserium, and petute has propressed under favorable conditions. Complaints of scarcity of labor are still received from nortions of central and castern districts. Reports indicate that nearly all of the cetton crop has been harvested—southern feorgia and Louislama and southwestern Texus, seventy-live per cent, in Florida the central portions of Georgia and formal where about one-fourth is picked, and where about one-fourth is picked, and where about one-fourth is picked, and verth Carolina, where only a small is still shedding in Georgia, is much shortened by drought in Tennessee, and continued depredations of insect pests housed, and curing is progressing under avorable conditions.

MEDDLER IS LEADER OF AMERICAN SIRES

(Special to The Times Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, October 4.—Meddler, the stallon owned by the estate of the late W. C.
Whitney, and one of the horses that will be sold at auction October 10th, is not only the most successful sire of race horses in America, but he is the greatest progenitor of speed in the world. This scason his sons and daughters won races worth $207.810. This sun exceeds by many thousands the amount won by the get of any other stallion.

If W. C. Whitney had lived another year he would have realized his turf ambitionio be the most successful breeder of the roughbreds in this country. His love for a race hosse developed late in his life, after he had decided to give up all other business. When he turned to the turf as a past time for his leisure hours, he made up his mind to have only the best race horses.

Meddler was the first stallion that he bought. This horse had been in the country several years, at that time quartered in Massachusetts. His progeny had shown speed, but nothing of a startling nature. When you had not a startling nature. When you had not a startling nature. When you had not been decided to give up all the proper with the proper w sold at auction October 10th, is not only the most successful sire of race horses in America.
